The school provides outcome—based education programs utilising the NESA K–12 syllabuses (7–12 Life Skills), and personalised learning plans for all students. The school is embraced by its community resulting in enhanced resources and regular community participation. SEWS teaching and non–teaching staff are experienced in special education, dedicated to quality education and to meeting the additional needs of students enrolled at the school.

School planning process

A comprehensive process was undertaken across the school to review practices, determine future directions and collect data in order to develop a 2018 to 2020 school plan. The resultant plan embodies the collective vision of our school community. The process included a review of the 2015–2017 school plan and the collection of data from all key stakeholders. Staff attended professional development workshops, detailed analysis of Tell Them from Me teacher and parent surveys was completed, and Annual School Reporting mapped surveys from parent/carers and staff. Information from the External Validation process and the school's self evaluation against the School Excellence Framework further supported the identification of planning priorities. The new draft school plan was distributed for consultation with all stakeholders.

As a result of this consultation three strategic directions were identified:

Wellbeing – to enhance engagement, enabling students staff and the community to connect succeed and thrive.

Quality Learning – to further develop student learning by ensuring effective data driven literacy and numeracy programs are implemented across the school.

Quality Teaching – to develop and implement a consistent and cohesive approach to assessment and reporting.
